Weather Is Hot Those who expected chilly, October winds to blow through the stands were disappointed, for it was like one of our scorcher around July 4.

From our perched perch in the press section which wobbles on the roof of the grand stand, we could see a carefully prepared playing field with the bright, white, straight foul lines glistening in the sunlight.

The regular bleacher sections were filled at noon, but the lucky holders of grand stand seats refused to come out early. Hundreds of photographers dashed hither and yon, snapping action pictures of the center-field flagpole, the infield and other prominent landmarks.

There was a big laugh from the stands when Gleason and Moran met. The band, which had evidently been tipped off, waited until the rival managers got together, and then played the "Wearing of the Green."

Kid Gleason used his bean in the preliminary workout. Knowing that Reuther would be the opposing twirler, he used southpaw pitchers. Moran used both kinds, evidently believing that the bean would be knocked stiff before the game was over.

STEEL CHIEF SEES PERIL TO INDUSTRY OF UNITED STATES

Corporation Head Says La Organization Rule Would Lower Production

FEARS NATION WOULD LOSE IN RACE WITH THE WORLD

Denies Before Senate Probers That Company Mistreats and Underpays Men

The tenth day of the steel strike finds no decided change in the situation. At Washington Judge Gary denied before the Senate inquiry committee that the Steel Corporation mistreated and underpaid its men. He said union control means decay of American industry. At Bethlehem estimates indicated that the strike is weak. At Pittsburgh corporation chiefs declared production is increasing; but union leaders asserted more men are deserting. At Sharon, Pa., where pickets turned back workmen, the only disturbance was reported. On the New York stock market steel stocks continued active and strong features.

By the Associated Press Washington, Oct. 1.—If unions control industries in the United States, "means decay and the dropping of production," Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, declared today in presenting the corporation's side of the steel strike to the Senate investigating committee.

"It means this country cannot keep up in the race with the world," said Mr. Gary. "It means the condition I fear England is in today." Denying that the United States Steel Corporation had mistreated its men Judge Gary told the committee that in his opinion there was no basic industry in the world which had paid larger wages than his company.

"I have been stated before this committee," said Judge Gary, "that the steel companies have been guilty of ill-treatment of their employees. Some statements have been made on misinformation and some absolutely without foundation. Declares Men Well Treated

"I wish to state, Mr. Chairman, that there is no basic industry in this country nor in the world, in my opinion, which has paid larger wages than the United States Steel Corporation, and perhaps not as large, nor has treated their employes in greater respect and consideration, if as great. "It has been charged that during the pending strike the subsidiary companies have been guilty of attacking and mistreating employes. "There isn't a vestige of truth in that statement. "Photographs were displayed here, and it was said a woman was killed. This photograph has been posted all over America, with a line over it 'Mrs. Fannie Sellins' body ghastly mistreated by the steel trust's frenzied crew."

"She was shot at Breckinridge, Pa. We have no works there, no men there. If she was killed, it was without even the knowledge of the Steel Corporation or any of its employes. "No Company Agents Responsible "Hanson's" your company investigated that matter in view of the charge," asked Chairman Keaton. "The verdict of the coroner's jury," said the witness, "made it certain that no agent of ours had the remotest connection with her death. "I have the certified copy of that verdict," said Senator Phillips, Republican, Colorado. "I'll file that. "We have discussed the incident with some of our people," Judge Gary resumed, "not because we thought they might be guilty, but for information. Our orders and our policy are against any activity which could lead to anything of that kind."

R. V. Lindabury, counsel for the corporation, said the woman was killed during a strike of coal miners. Judge Gary said in his opinion the "shot" probably was fired by the strikers themselves. He added that his company had no interest in the coal mines where the riot occurred. Senator Phillips read a certified copy of the inquest record in the case. The jury's verdict said that the deputy sheriff involved were firing in self-defense. Sheriffs on Payroll Chairman Keaton asked whether deputy sheriffs were sworn in at the corporation's plants and were on the company's payroll. "I should say yes," said Mr. Gary.
